GLENDALÉ COUNCILMEMBER BART TURNER CELEBRATES 50 YEARS OF GLENDALÉ COMMUNITY COLLEGE ON “GLENDALÉ TODAY”

Glendale, Ariz. — Glendale Councilmember Bart Turner of the Barrel District showcases 50 years of education at Glendale Community College on his new edition of the TV show “Glendale Today.” Councilmember Turner also takes viewers on a tour of the campus, highlighting the Public Safety Science Department, the Public Arts and Life Sciences buildings, the Fitness and Wellness Center and the new state-of-the-art Phillip Randolph Automotive Technology Center.

Guests on the show include Eric Leshinskie, interim vice president of academic affairs, who talks about the first 50 years of educating West Valley residents and what new programs are being offered to the 25,000 students currently enrolled, and Jeff Hynes of the Public Safety Sciences Department, who discusses the important relationship between the city and the college in training tomorrow’s first responders. Here’s a sneak peek at the show.

The show begins airing Friday, April 15 at 8 p.m. “Glendale Today” is produced by staff from the city-owned TV station Glendale 11. The show will air daily on Glendale 11 as well as online via the city’s video library at www.glendaleaz.com/video and exclusive segments can be found on the city’s YouTube channel at www.youtube.com/MyGlendale11.
